

Leadership Breakfast CA State Convention 04/27/2024

Opening

Good Morning California Sisters,

We are all here together to celebrate the leadership of this past biennium of President Rosena Kruley, where we were challenged to “Step Into The Future”. We also are here to look forward to the upcoming biennium, when Virginia Riding will lead us as our new California State President.

This morning it is important for us all to continue to realize, at this leadership breakfast, that we are all called to the role of leadership not just a select few. We all have the capabilities within us to lead in some way in our own Chapters as well as at the State, Regional, and International level. Being a leader can start small by helping out others in leadership roles or perhaps serving on a committee. A leader does not look around for some one else to lead, but rather is always willing to help out.

I came across a quote from John Quincy Adams that I placed on your table. He said, “ If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more, and become more, you are a leader”.

I would like you to take this this simple quote with you today and reflect on its meaning in the coming biennium as you willingly take on new leadership roles in Alpha Delta Kappa.

Closing

As we leave this morning to join the opening ceremonies of this convention let us all work together to: “Inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more, and become more,” so we can be the leaders that strengthen and grow Alpha Delta Kappa in the coming years.
